ED & CEO'S STATEMENT ON AML & CFT

Now-a-days money laundering (ML) and terrorist financing (TF) have become common concerns for all not only in our country's perspective but also in a global context. Laundering illegal money through various mechanisms is essential for the criminals to carry out their illegal, criminal and terrorist activities across the globe. As a result, banking business has been exposed into this process as banks/NBFIs are often used by them to channel their money. Therefore, it has become a priority to prevent the efforts of terrorist groups to launder money through banking channels for terrorist financing. BIFFL is committed to make its best efforts to combat the money launderers and financiers of terrorist activities.

The Board of Directors of BIFFL considers ML and TF are major threats to the stability and the integrity of the financial system. They also view money laundering prevention as an integral part of its risk management strategy and not simply as a standalone requirement that is being imposed by the regulators. ML prevention is not viewed in isolation from other activities and needs of BIFFL.

BIFFL Management has established a Central Compliance Unit (CCU) headed by the Chief Anti Money Laundering Compliance Officer (CAMLCO) and developed policy and guidance notes on AML/CFT (Anti Money Laundering/Combating Financing on Terrorism). The unit will assess the adequacy of the internal controls and procedures to counter money laundering and terrorist financing. Being a reporting entity, BIFFL is absolutely determined to combat the ML and TF affairs in compliance with all the provisions of prevailing Acts, Rules as well as circulars issued by BFIU.

In its endeavour to fight ML and TF, awareness among the employees of the organization is considered vital by BIFFL. The organization has ensured training of its employees on a regular interval and will continue it in the future.

BIFFL is firmly committed to building a robust customer base. At the same time, its vigorous Know-Your-Customer and Due Diligence procedures are designed to ensure that it deals only with legitimate customers, conducting legitimate businesses. Proper reporting on ML and TF must be made to the regulators as defined in the Act.

It is important to remind you all that non-compliance of the responsibilities required to be discharged by BIFFL might be penalized by the regulators as per provisions of the Act both at organizational as well as individual level.

Therefore, all employees are hereby requested to comply meticulously with the Policy and Guidance notes on AML and CFT of BFIU.
